JOHNNY RODRIGUEZ

Popular country and western vocalist-songwriter Johnny Rodriguez and his band, The Hole-in-the-Wall Gang, appeared at TSU November 8, 1979. They had previously given a concert at Tarleton in 1975.

The singer's biggest hit, "Ridin' My Thumb to Mexico," drew a big response from the audience as did "It's Hard to Be a Cowboy These Days" and "Down on the Rio Grande." Rodriguez also performed the Eagles' hits, "Desperado" and "Take It Easy."

During his performance, women continuously streamed to the front of the stage to be seen — and kissed — by the appealing singer. His songs including "Your Love Put a Song in My Heart," "Fools for Each Other," and "We Believe in Happy Endings" seemed to be appropriate. He closed with "Alibies" and "We're Over," leaving many of his female admirers hoping for "happy endings."

Rodriguez flashes a smile at his adoring fans.

The singer overwhelmed his audience with the sad, plaintive melody of "Alibies."

UP WITH PEOPLE

Pretty girls!

Up With People, the internationally-acclaimed youth musical spectacular, entertained at Tarleton on December 8, 1979. The hundred member cast presented a well-liked performance in the Main Auditorium and even provided something new in the cafeteria when they gave a brief preview during lunch. They were sponsored by the Civic Series Committee.

The evening show featured international folksongs and pageantry, a medley of hit tunes and dances of the past fifty years, musical skits, and original composition composed by the college age cast.

Two Tarleton students joined the group onstage.

The cast presenting a basketball skit.

Lights, music and dancing . . . Up With People had it all.

Encouraging the audience to clap along and "get with it."

SPRING REGISTRATION

Enrollment at TSU on the final day of fall registration, Thursday, Sept. 6, stood at 3380. The total represents an increase of 57 students over the twelfth class day of last fall which was 3323.

Spring enrollment moved past 3100 on Jan. 21, 1980. The final figure for spring of 1979 was 3135 which was the highest in history for a spring session at TSU. The final figure for the spring semester of 1980 was 3139. This was taken on the 12th day of class.

A time consuming but necessary evil.

Always ready to receive money.

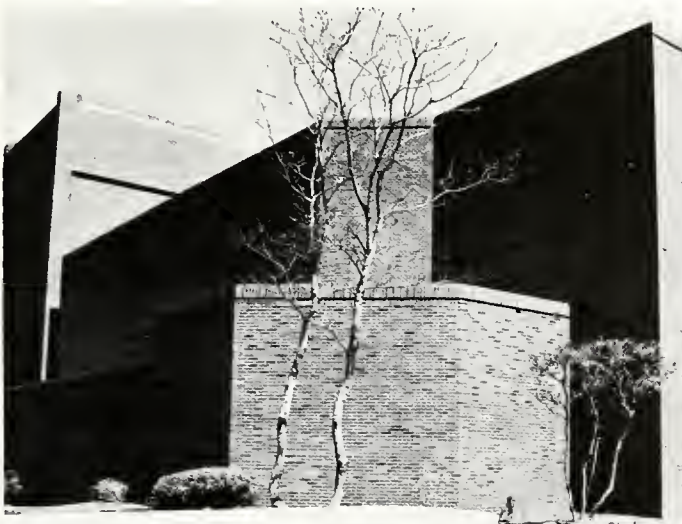

Faculty members enjoy registration as much as students do, right?

FINE ARTS COMPLEX

The entrance of the new Fine Arts Complex has an interesting skyline.

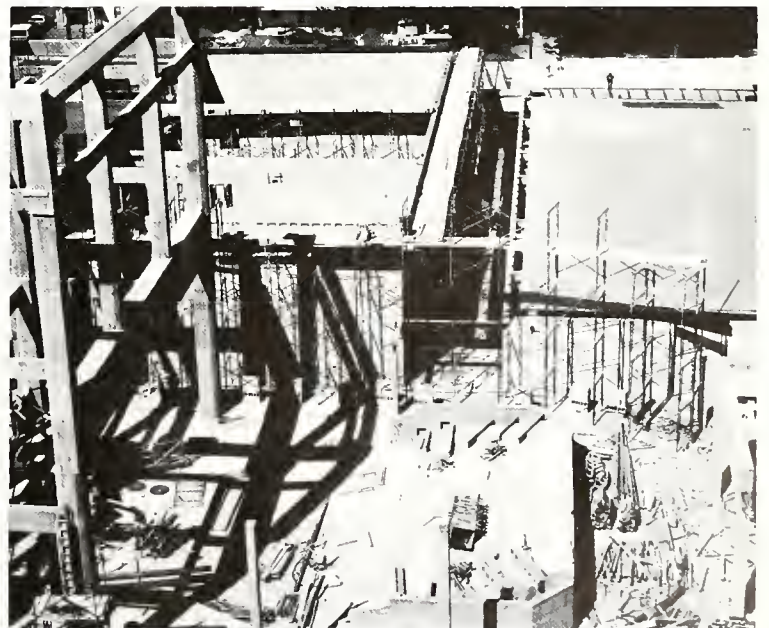

The recently finished complex had already been landscaped by the grounds department.

Even though TSU's new Fine Arts Complex missed its projected completion date due to shortages of skilled workmen and some materials, the complex was completed in May. Construction began in September 1977 and the center is expected to be dedicated in December 1980.

The structure was planned and designed by Jarvis, Putty, and Jarvis according to requirements submitted by the Texas A&M System. Bob Boyce of the A&M System office wrote the requirements after consulting with the Faculties of TSU's art, music, and drama departments on their needs.

Great Southwest Construction Company built the complex and a total of seven contracts were awarded to furnish the structure.

The new complex will house the art, music, and drama departments.

BARBARA MANDRELL

Barbara Mandrell, 1979's Top Female Vocalist of the Year, and her six member band, the Do-Rites, captivated the packed crowd in Wisdom Gym on Valentine's Eve, February 13, 1980. Many acclaimed this concert as the best of the year.

The Houston-born singer jumped right into her recent hits, "Fooled By a Feeling" and "Sleeping Single in a Double Bed." Mandrell then launched into a medley of her older hits including "Woman to Woman" and "Married But Not to Each Other." She sat at the front of the stage for the infinite parade of admirers, mostly young men, who packed the stage front area during the entire concert to take pictures or just to be close to the country superstar.

Mandrell proudly announced that her newest release, "Years," had gone number one just the day before and expressed her gratitude. She sang "Years" exuberantly as well as the flip side, "Darlin'," on which she was accompanied by drummer Randy Wright. Mandrell proved to be quite a musician as well as a top performer as she played the harmonica, banjo, saxophone, steel guitar and tamborine. She kept the audience laughing between numbers and was presented roses by several infatuated young fans.

After the rocker, "Johnny B. Goode," she surprised the crowd. The lights went out and she re-appeared, not in the long blue dress she had been wearing, but in a white sequined pants suit to perform "Help Me Make It Through the Night," "Born to Lose," "I Can't Stop Loving You" and "If Loving You Is Wrong, I Don't Wanna Be Right."

Mandrell stirred at least one cowboy's heart when she borrowed his hat to sing a Willy Nelson-Waylon Jennings medley of "Mamas Don't Let Your Babies Grow Up to Be Cowboys" and "Good Hearted Woman."

The petite blonde made the strings sizzle when she played "Dueling Banjos" on the banjo and then switched to a steel guitar for the next chorus. She swung into a gospel favorite, "What a Friend We Have in Jesus" and has the audience clapping and singing with her to "Amen."

The appreciative crowd rose to its feet to applaud the talented Mandrell and she returned for an encore with "Gone at Last."

Dynamic!

THE SHOPPE

The Dallas based group, Shoppe, appeared at Tarleton twice this year. The five versatile musicians-comedians entertained at the formal dance December 8, 1979, jointly sponsored by the Student Senate, the Civic Series, Tarleton Center Committee, and Recruiting Department. They returned February 13, 1980 to open the Barbara Mandrell concert.

"Shoppe" proved very talented as the group played country, rock, bluegrass, gospel, and dixieland jazz. At the Mandrell concert, they brought the audience to its feet in a standing ovation and returned for an encore with Tanya Tucker's hit, "When I Die, I Wanna Go to Texas." They opened with a medley of Sons of the Pioneers' songs including "Ghost Riders," "Yellow Rose of Texas," "Cool Water" and "Tumblin' Tumbleweeds." The crowd's favorite though seemed to be a dixieland jazz tune that originated in New Orleans called "Freddy Fieldgood and his Funky Little Five-Piece Band."

The group performed Kenny Rodgers' "She Believes in Me" and then picked up the beat with one of Pure Prairie League's tunes, "Pickin' to Beat the Devil." They brought back pleasant memories with a medley of old tunes including "When the Saints Go Marching In," "This Train Is Bound for Glory," "Bill Bailey, Won't You Please Come Home," "Salty Dog" and "I've Laid Around This Old Town Too Long." Shoppe closed their act with an appropriate number — "Goodnight Ladies."

A banjo, a guitar, and some foot-stompin' are essential for bluegrass.

The Shoppe members are very lively, very funny, and very talented, and according to the ladies very good-looking.

The Baptist Student Union has much to offer the student of TSU. Besides a varied range of activities, the BSU offers a full time professional staff for counseling. The BSU also makes available university-level Bible courses for degree credit.

However, the area which seems to be most appealing and popular among BSU folks is the warm family type atmosphere and fellowship which is found among its members. Come join the BSU and be a part of the family. There is a place for you.

"HOT TO GO" AND "TOO SMOOTH"

TSU's concert season ended quite differently this year as SAF presented two hot Texas rock groups at the last concert held April 24. Hot To Go, a 3-man band from San Antonio played many familiar songs and provided much fun for the audience with their energy. Too Smooth was also well received and the crowd enjoyed the Austin groups' original material. Both bands enjoyed playing for Tarleton's devoted rockers and brought a very welcome change from the traditional country bands that play here.
